

Dr Vlasios Ninios is an interventional cardiologist based in Interbalkan European Medical Center, Thessaloniki, Greece. He's the director of the Cardiology department. His main interest is intervention in structural heart disease valvular heart disease and heart failure. He is investigator and member of the steering committee in many clinical trials in the field.